Supervisor Rowe Elected Sworn-In for First Full Term

SAN BERNARDINO-On December 7, 2020, 3rd District Supervisor Dawn Rowe was sworn-in to office for her first full term on the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors. Previously, she was appointed in 2018 to complete the remainder of then-Supervisor James Ramos's term as a result of his election to the California State Assembly. Members of the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors serve four-year terms.

After serving on the Board of Supervisors for a little more than a year, Rowe was overwhelmingly re-elected by 3rd District voters during the March 2020 Primary Election. Because she received over 50 percent of the votes cast in the five-candidate race, she was declared the winner and did not appear on the November 2020 General Election ballot.

"To know that the voters of the 3rd District put their trust in me to represent their interests is an awesome responsibility that I don't take lightly," said Rowe. "I will continue my efforts to make county government more responsive to the needs of our citizens and businesses."
